Bayside Interiors and I have been working with ICOM for over 20 years. ICOM seem to offer a truly unique value to their client with there vast portfolio of experience in very technical and fast track projects and their ability to design and tackle any scope the client has required. We have been involved and worked with ICOM on several of the most prominent complex projects in Silicon Valley and the ICOM staff members on these projects have been superior in their performance and level of customer interaction and service.
